A Day in the Life of a Statue

What's it like to be a statue? Pretend that you are a statue in front of Chancellor Livingston School. What would you see? What would you hear? How would you feel? Use complete sentences to tell about everything that goes on around you during the day.

In the morning I see buses unloading children. In the afternoon I would hear children talking with there parents about there day. I would feel nervous. Every morning when children come to school if they are early for school they play around the statue. If they were on time then they say hi! I hold books, homework, backpack and a pencil.
