Accompaniment	The accompaniment is not played at the ends of the sung phrases.	Accompaniment during the singing overlaps somewhat with the sung phrases.	The accompaniment occurs only at the ends of the song phrases.
Improvisation	The improvisation is absent or involves one hand tapping the beat instead of making up a rhythm.	The improvisation does not use all the areas of the drumhead and the rhythm does not vary. The student may not consistently use both hands.	In the improvisation section, the student uses both hands and more than one area of the drumhead. The student does not merely tap the beat, but makes up own rhythm, which varies over time.

The accompaniment is good. The student uses both hands and all areas of the drumhead in his improvisation. He also varies the rhythm.
